Beverly Hills Enjoys a Pawsome Time at Woofstock 90210 More than a Thousand Dogs and People Attend Annual Pooch Party

On Sunday, June 29, the City of Beverly Hills Community Services Department celebrated the 6th annual Woofstock 90210 with more than 3,000 people at La Cienega Park on Wiggly Field East.

The exciting pet extravaganza featured treats for furry friends of all sizes, over 35 pet related vendors, adoptions, food trucks, and fun for the whole family. The canine crews of Disc Dogs and the Los Angeles Responsible Pit Bull Owners (LARPBO) also entertained the crowd with doggie dancing and other athletic feats.

Event highlights included pups outfitted in costume for the pet parade and a talent show competition. The awards for the “Best Dressed” dogs went to Gaby and owner Judy Garland; Cosie and owner Shannon Miller; and dogs Sable and Cholo and owner Stephanie Olsen. The winners for the “Most Talented” pooches went to Dexter and owner Mariana Borges; Latkee Angel and owners Gloria and Lou Milkowski; and Gaby and owner Judy Garland.

“Woofstock 90210 is for pets and people,” commented event coordinator Cindy Brynan. “The event is dedicated to celebrating our four-legged friends and raising awareness for animal adoptions. Beverly Hills is blessed to have great rescue agencies dedicated to finding homes for pets. Each year, Woofstock provides a safe and loving environment for community members to meet local animals looking for homes and adopt one on site.”

Pets 90210 reported that 21 dogs and three kittens were adopted on Sunday with additional rescue animals finding loving homes in the coming weeks thanks to Woofstock 90210.

This year’s event also honored the late Paula Kent Meehan, founder of the Pet Care Foundation and Pets 90210. The City of Beverly Hills presented her son Michael Miller with a proclamation of gratitude for her years of dedication to this community and its animals.

Event sponsors and supporters for Woofstock 90210 included: Beverly Hills Mayor Lili Bosse, Pussy & Pooch, Union Bank, Natural Balance Pet Foods Inc., Just Food for Dogs, Product of Scotland Walkers, and Wallach, Koogler & Cloud Productions.
